

The Advanced Programme in Agricultural Business Management

Fees and Funding

The fee for the 2023 Advanced Course in Agricultural Business Management is £6,300.00 per delegate, this includes both the pre and post sessions as well as the two-week residential element. All accommodation, meals and programme materials are also included.

Most delegates attending the programme are either fully or partly funded by their employer, business, personally or through sponsorship.

All candidates selected for interview will need to indicate during the interview, how they intend to fund their attendance, if a place is offered. They will also need to be able to confirm to the panel that, if one of the very limited number of places available is offered, they are sufficiently confident of funding to be able to accept.

A deposit of £500.00 is payable immediately a candidate accepts a place offered on the programme.

Advice regarding potential sources of grant funding, from both local and national organisations, is available through the RAU and/or the Worshipful Company of Farmers. Candidates looking for advice in this area should in the first instance follow this link: <https://farmerslivery.org.uk/courses/sponsorship-and-funding/>

It should be noted that the Worshipful Company of Farmers is committed to ensuring that no candidate is excluded from attending the ACABM simply through lack of funds, so where appropriate the Company will make grants available to individuals with genuine need.
