

Paying your Tuition Fees

New International Students

If you require a Visa to study in the UK, you must pay a £2000 tuition fee deposit before a Certificate of Acceptance for Studies (CAS) can be provided. This amount is then deducted from your final tuition fee payment. The amount you need to pay will have been included in your original offer letter. If you are not sure if you need to pay a tuition fee deposit, please contact admissions@rau.ac.uk.

Whether you require a Visa, or not, we require full payment of your tuition fees to be made in order to complete your registration onto your course. Please make sure full payment is received before you arrive at the Royal Agricultural University.

Bank Transfer

We recommend that you set up an international bank account before starting your studies. You can then transfer money without incurring exchange charges and avoid the impact of any currency exchange fluctuations on your maintenance funds

If you are unable to do this please ask your bank to raise the transfer in sterling so that you are sure you have paid enough.
